

LYRICS by Rose Jeffus

Like and empty box-car
On a run-a-way train
I've go nothin' to lose
I've go nothin' to gain
Down here on the bottom
It's a dark, lonely place
"Please come rescue me Lord
I'm in need of your grace"

I'll pray to the Lord, with all of my might
"Remove this darkness, let me see the light"
I'll pray to the Lord, "Wrap me in your love"
So these storms I'm in, I will fly above
Like golden eagles, on their maiden flight
Straight into the wind, where troubles out of sight

There's not a better time
For me to dream my dreams
There's not a better way
For me to spread my wings
If I could learn to fly
It will bring me heart ease
I'll never feel the fear
Of floating on a breeze

God's like a mother eagle, teachin' her off-spring to fly
He'll swoop down and catch me, so I won't fall from the sky

I'll pray to the Lord, with all of my might
"Remove this darkness, let me see the light"
I'll pray to the Lord, "Wrap me in your love"
So these storms I'm in, I will fly above
Like golden eagles, on their maiden flight
Straight into the wind, where troubles out of sight

Straight into the wind
Where troubles out of sight
